

Xakary

"America's Got Talent, Seattle kids' magician"

Based in Seattle | Comedy Magic | Kids & Family

Biography

Seen on America's Got Talent, Xakary is Seattle's funniest and most popular magician for children and parents, an act built to land with both halves of the room at the same time.

The comedy is pitched to the kids sitting up front while the lines that sail over their heads keep the grown-ups laughing, so nobody at a birthday party is left checking the time. Xakary shapes each show around the age of the children watching, and he also teaches magic classes for young people who would rather learn the secrets than simply watch them. Between birthday parties, family celebrations and school-age gatherings, he is a dependable choice wherever children and their parents are in the audience together.
